The distressing news has reached the office of the Bulletin to the effect that radio station WGST is discontinuing the Radio Church conducted by Dr. D. Witherspoon Dodge each Sunday morning from the radio studio at the Ansley hotel. We are not in possession of information influencing this action.

We hasten, therefore, to join with the countless number of radio-minded, information-seeking and liberalthinking citizens of Atlanta and the nation in registering our anxiety in thinking citizens of Atlanta and the nation in registering our anxiety in connection with this what we consider most unfortunate occurrence. Sunday after Sunday with eager ears and with open minds, citizens of radio land of all races and conditions of men tune in to hear this refreshing, thought-provoking, moral-awakening and spiritual stimulating message of Dr. Dodge, pastor of Radio church. The Bulletin shares the conviction of many of the people of the community that much of our economic and social disaster from which we are now suffering has resulted the community that much of our economic and social disaster from which we are now suffering has resulted from mental inertia and moral decay. Some things that we might regard as intellectual honesty, moral steadfastness and spiritual regeneration are needed to point the way toward economic rehabilitation.

That Dr. Dodge made a weekly contribution toward making possible the above, we believe no one will be found to gainsay. "We shall not be made free by the truth, except we know the truth." We shall only know the truth as agencies make it available. We, therefore, petition the manager of station WGST to reconsider this matter and re-establish the People's Forum under the auspices of Dr. D. Witherspoon Dodge in the interest of a more enlightened community, a more tolerent mental attitude for all the children of all the people.

SAVANNAH SEEKS AIR UNIT

As a step toward the establishment of a national guard air unit in Savannah, Representative Peterson, of the first Georgia district, will introduce an amendment to the air corps act of 1926 authorizing the addition of 80 planes to the present limit of 1,880, these airships to be "used in the establishment of ten additional observation squadrons with auxiliary units for the national guard to be located as the secretary of war may direct."

THE NEW STATE PARKS

The three new state parks at Indian Springs, Crawfordville and in Union county, completed by the CCC at a cost of more than a million dollars, will be valuable additions to the inadequate park system of the state.

Such units have rendered invaluable additionable rendered invaluable valued in a state.

Just to interrupt Mr. Aljechin's story a moment. This business of persecuting people for their family antecedents is one of the things that disgusts me most about the new Russia. I see they are again arresting some nobles. I think this is dreadful just as much as I think it dreadful and uncivilized if anyone calls another man a "bohunk" or a "Dago" or a "Kike" or something like that. What tright has anyone to speak with dis-

Georgia has lagged behind other states in the creation of state parks. With the parks already in existence the three new areas will form a fine nucleus around which to build such a system as the state should have.

The Indian Springs historical park includes an area that was before the coming of the white man a meeting place for the Indian tribes in this section. To the 10 acres already owned by the state, on which is the famous Indian entired that has been the meets of national guard units.

Georgia should have such a unit and Savannah offers ideal advantages for its base. Both overland and oversea training will be available, the mild climate and usually quiet atmosphere will permit allithely experience the board. Then we faced each other. Suddenly I grew terribly nervous. Suppose, I thought, my life level nature of the surrounding accountry is well adapted for test flights.

It is to be hoped that the movement will be successful and Savannah offers ideal advantages for its base. Both overland and oversea training will be available, the mild climate and usually quiet atmosphere will permit allithely of the board. Then we faced each other. Suddenly I grew terribly nervous. Suppose, I thought, my life depends on this game? Suppose I beat Trotaky and he is a bad loser, he will sign my death warrant in an hour. Suppose on the other hand I let him win, and he notices it, he will despise me and sign the warrant just the same. It was a terrible debate I fought out in my mind. At acres already owned by the state, on which is the famous Indian spring that has been the mecca of the people not only of Georgia but of surrounding states for more than a century, has been added 162 more and a museum has been built in which the relics of Indian days may be inspected. There are few spots in the south as. rich in historical lore as is this area and as a state park it will attract increasingly large numbers of tourists in future.

The people of Georgia have a peculiar sentimental interest in the creation of a park out of the estate of Alexander H. Stephens, vice president of the Confederacy and stormy petrel of the trying days of reconstruction. The property was purchased by the U. D. C. after

In my opinion it is better to feed a baby or child pure raw milk if this is available, but in order to guard against the transmission of any disease in the milk, to bring each day's supply to a boil for one minute only and then let it cool. This short duration of heating is ample for killing and disease germs yet it does not destroy so much of the vitamin C as does the 20 to 30 minutes of par-boiling (heating to 145 degrees F.) of the enough vitamin C.

Of course, I demand certified milk when I have no personal knowledge of the source of the milk, for certified milk is raw and from tuberculin tested cows. Moreover certified milk is handled from cow to consumer only by persons whose health is constantly watched by experts.

News Behind the News

MAKE-BELIEVE SERENITY WASHINGTON, April 14.—The Roosevelt social security proram is supposed to be cruising serenely through congress. The puse leaders have managed to create the impression that they did not even need a gag rule to keep their sailors from scuttling the

The unhappy fact is that President Roosevelt nearly had a mutiny on his hands. The reason no gag rule was attempted was simply that the leaders did not have the votes to do it.

The situation in the locastle developed this way:

SKIPPER The bill was handled by the house ways and means committee. This committee is composed largely of conservative democrats, many of them southerners.

Nearly all of them favor the general principle of old age pensions and unemployment insurance. No politician dares to do any-thing else openly these days. Yet it is nevertheless a fact that no more than two of the eighteen democrats on that committee were wholeheartedly for this particular bill. The recalcitrant sixteen will have to deny it now, but every insider knows it to have been a fact. In view of this situation, some of the house leaders quietly worked out a plan. They thought Mr. Roosevelt might be satisfied if he succeeded in getting some progress on the bill at this session. The plan called for the house to fiddle around and pass the bill too late for the senate to act at this session. It may not have been put up to Mr. Roosevelt directly. But it was certainly suggested to him diplomatically by his house lieutenants upon his

His answer was that he wanted the house to act at once, and that he also would insist upon senate action at this session. is the only reason why the bill now is being pushed along. The SQUEEZE You may wonder why the doubtful democratic congressmen do not rebel. If so, you do not know much about politics.

With Huey Long and Dr. Townsend making themselves more or less popular solely by promising to give away money, most congressmen in their right minds would consider it political suicide to vote against any social security program.

What has happened inside the republican camp on this same bill is proof enough of that. Twice, the republican house members have been called into conference to adopt a party plan of opposition to the bill. Twice, they have failed to adopt any agreement for co-ordinated opposition.

Many republicans will vote against the bill, but the wise old heads do not want to put the party on record, no matter how many doubts they may have about the plan.

The truth is Mr. Roosevelt has congress in what is nonularly known as "the squeeze." Unless he relents, the bill certainly will become a law at this session. And there is little chance that he will relent, despite stories now current in the senate cloakrooms, conveying that erroneous impression, DOUBTS There are good reasons to suspect Mr. Roosevelt himself is not very strong for the machinery of the bill, but wants it passed so that the principle will be adopted. Then changes can be made later.

At any rate, the New Dealers who testified before the house committee seemed to be less proud than usual of their handiwork. Two justice department lawyers were the most favorable witnesses, They confined their testimony to suggestions for getting around constitutional objections.

Those who are now championing the measure in the house do not attempt to make much of a secret of the doubtful constitu-tionality of some features. They also have more or less open about the advisability of creating such a stupendous federal fund ($32,000,000,000 by 1970) for the administration of the meas-This is more than enough money to pay off the national government debt, which is now so big that some financial men are howling that it will ruin the country.

The congressmen know in their own minds that this money will come out of the workers' pay envelopes. Most of it is sup-posed to come from a tax on employers, but there are only two places for an employer to get the money to pay the tax:

(1) From cutting his pay roll costs, and (2) from charging increased prices. It is not hard to guess which method the employer

HANDSHAKE There is nothing in the story going around that Al Smith and Hoover are planning anything po-litical. Their recent activities may be attributed solely to the fact that they are employed by the same insurance company, at least partially for the purposes of advertising. Anyone who knows those two men will realize how difficult it is for them to shake hands, even to advertise their company in the papers.

The Ass in the Lion's Skin Was Sane, For He Didn't Fool Himself By Robert Quillen-

Some weeks ago the newspapers told the sad story of an old man whose wits were addled by sudden prosperity.

He had found a package containing valuable securities and returned it to the owners. The reward they gave him was not unduly generous, but each mail brought him small sums from other people whose hearts had been touched by the story of his poverty and honesty, and the sum of these benefactions seemed fabulous wealth.

The sudden transition from rags to riches unbalanced the old fellow's mind. He began to have what the psychiatrists call "delusions of grandeur." He imagined himself a broker, a millionaire, a god.
In the language of ordinary laymen, he had "gone crazy." But psychiatrists do not use such words. They called it, more accurately, a

In the old days the Sunday school was regarded, as the nursery of the church and was attended almost exclusively by children. In these latter days it has become an integral part of the church, and there are not a few communities whose Sunday school enrollment is larger than the membership of the church. The business of the church is to reach people, and when they are reached, to teach them. In respect to teaching, the Sunday school holds a position second only to the pulpit.

Legislatures NEW YORK, N. Y., April 14.—In Lou-isiana Huey Long used to look out over the stateamen aitting in his state capitol ane say that he could buy them like so many sacks of potatoes. He knew his statesmen and they knew he knew them. That was why they sat still and took it one day when a brother of Huey, having been ordered off the floor for lobbying, walked down to the speaker's stand, dramati-cally faced about, put his thumb to time on debate in Baton Rouge, now. They do not even read the bills. They just vote "yes." They never have to vote "no" because no proposition which is disapproved at headquarters is ever permitted to come to a vote. This relieves the statesmen of the mental strain of remembering how they are to vote. There are two little electric buttons on each legislator's desk, one for "aye" and one for "nay," and the member trains himself never, under any circumstances, to press the one marked "nay." In Florida, the piece-work system still prevails, and the results are very unsatisfactory. There are no ethics and a man may even listen to reason on both sides of a question, causing great confusion among businessmen who attempt to transact business. They had a terrible time passing a racing and pari-mutuel bill in Florida a few years ago. First they passed it. Then it was vetoed. When it came up again, some of the states. it. Then it was vetoed. When it came up again, some of the statesmen had forgotten their reasons for voting for it in the first place, and men had forgotten their reasons for voting for it in the first place, and there was a great scurrying around in New York, where the bill originated, to collect arguments to convince them all over again. A messenger hurried down to Tallahassee with the arguments in a satchel and just barely had enough arguments to go around. The New York legislature at this time is in a most bewildering state of confusion. The New York statesmen operate on both systems, the piece-work plan and by the term, and the two do not mir well.

A year ago, for example, a bill was introduced and went whooping through to permit pari-mutuel betting on the New York race tracks. Parimutuel betting in New York would return at least $5,000,000 a year and probably as much as $8,000,000 in kitty for the state treasury. I order to become a law, however, the bill had to pass two consecutive sessions and then be referred to the people in an election. all over again. You can hardly guess the strength of the book-makers' appeal to the statesmen, but the fact that the mutuels, taking down a kitty of, say, 5 per cent. would return from $5,000.000 to $8,000.000 will give you an idea. The book-makers take down a kitty of at least 20 per cent. This will just suggest the potency of the a kitty of at least 20 per cent. This will just suggest the potency of the arguments against the mutuel bill, which the book-makers have been able to present both to individual statesmen and to headquarters in New York city. There is a current newspaper estimate of $250,000, but that obviously means only the down payment.

obviously means only the down payment.

Book-making will face a magnificent future of prosperity if the mutuel bill is killed, as it undoubtedly will be, and the arguments to be contributed by the book-makers in the years to come will be stupendous. The gambling house magnates think nothing of sending $100.000 down to Miami alone, along toward October every year, to convince the local authorities that gambling houses are an asset to the community.

The state treasury will lose from $5,000.000 to $8,000,000 a year, to be sure, but the treasury could hardly expect to win against such powerful arguments.

Rubber Peace Plan

DALLAS, April 14.—(49)—Three prisoners, one of them identified by officers as a recent associate of Raymond Hamilton, southwestern gunman now awaiting electrocution, sawed their way out of the Dallas county jail early today.

Jail records gave the names of the trio as John Bratcher, the former Hamilton associate, held for federal officers; Olin Tyler, charged with murder, and Tommy Bryant, charged with burglary.

Officers were reluctant to discuss the case but said the men obtained saws from some source and cut the bolt off the lock of their cell on the sixth floor.

They made their way to a lower floor and escaped by means of sheets tied together to form a rope.

AND ARE SHOT IN FEET,

Two 14-year-old boys, Paul Allen, of 12 Porter place, N. E., and Mark Wood, of 596 Piedmont avenue, were shot in their left feet yesterday afternoon when they hammered on the door of the home of Henry Smith, 40, negro, at 4 St. Charles way, N. E., and were mistaken for robbers. Their wounds were treated at Grady hospital and they were dismissed.

The boys told police that Charles Dooley, negro janitor, who lives in the rear of 761 Boulevard, N. E., told them Smith had an air rifle which he would sell them for 35 cents. They were told to knock loudly four times on Smith's door. They obeyed the commands and, according to police reports, startled Smith, who shot through the door. Smith was arrested and charged with disorderly conduct and shooting. Dooley was arrested and charged with disorderly conduct.

Life insurance will never be sold like tenpenny nails, tooth paste, soup, or patent medi-cine. It will never be wrapped up and passed across a counter. It will never be displayed in store windows or on shelves, and no retail clerk will ever say to you: "This is a good policy. I use it myself!"

No. Life insurance will never be bought that way. Delicate, highly specialized, it must be sold by men trained to advise you about the particular policy best suited to your needs. You expect counsel when you buy. You want to deal with someone in whom you can confide, knowing that your confidence will be secure. You want advice sympathetic with your needs. Now then, had they brought along that paper this morning, because they started too early for the daily paper to reach them, or because there was some program or data about the races that they wanted, or had they, after all, been on the boat all night?

No, for aside from their very recent shaves, the little bathroom on the boat was in the most tidy order. Nobody had used that lavatory that morning; it showed a cleaning up done by skilled fingers, not the hasty slicking over that a well-meaning guest might give.

Nor had the beds been used. Two tiny staterooms and some comfortable looking berths were of immaculate whiteness and in perfect order.

No, the men couldn't have been on board overnight—unless—again came thought of the mythical steward, who callously murdered two men, put the yacht in apple-pie order and went his way. be missing from the yacht, for all Fleming Stone knew.

It was too vague. What relation did the two dead men bear to each other? He had sorted them as the owner of the yacht and his guest. And it seemed plausible; Barry, the rich young chap who sported a jeweled cigaret case, was far more likely to own this boat than the older and less wealthy man who sat on the deck.

And it was Barry who went down to start the motor because the fog and the lack of wind did not make for pleasant sailing.

And the girl's picture on the table in the cabin was inscribed to Barry, not to Elkins Van Zandt.

"No, sir—not exactly. More because she's the captain's sweetheart."

"Guessing, Zeb, guessing, that won't do, Just because it's the only picture of a lady in evidence, you mustn't jump to a conclusion.

"Tain't guessing, sir. The proof is right there 'fore our eyes. Look at it!"

SENATE WILL GET

Wheeler's Measure for Government Ownership Lists Pay Method.

WASHINGTON, April 14 .- (P)-Outright government ownership and operation of the railroads, beginning ext January, was proposed today by Senator Wheeler, democrat, Montana, chairman of the senate interstate commerce committee.

Wheeler's plan for a federal cor poration to take over the nation's carriers is embodied in a bill that he has prepared for introduction tomorrow. The corporation would exchange its stock and debentures for the existing securities of the railroads on the basis of their current market value and the 1930 earnings.

Wheeler, long an advocate of pub.

Wheeler, long an advocate of public ownership of utilities, has been working on the bill since before congress convened. In drafting it he has conferred with Joseph B. Eastman, federal co-ordinator of transportation. portation.
Under the terms of the bill, the corporation would acquire the roads either by consolidation of the present companies with the federal corporation and an exchange of their respective securities, or by the use of eminent domain and a payment for the property in debentures of the United States railways guaranteed by the government.

In making the proposed exchange of railroad securities, holders would be offered contingent securities, such as income bonds or preferred stock not guaranteed by the government, equal to the difference between the present market price of the securities and their value on the basis of 1960 earnings. 980 earnings.

Aggregate interest and dividends on the debentures and contingent securi-ties could not exceed the railroad earnings for 1930.

If the owners of rail securities did not accept these terms, under the bill their holdings would be condemned and they would be paid the present value of their securities in govern-ment guaranteed debentures.

The prelude takes place in Africa, and a tiptop tropical storm and a bursting dam send the picture off with an appropriate bang.

The motive for a series of backstabbings is established when a young man is forced into a game of bridge. This being the case one can understand the vow of vengeance which follows. It's several years later, in California, when the villains who Paul Cavanagh in the big type

Text of French Protest

GENEVA, April 14.—(AP)— The text of the French memoran-dum to the League of Nations' council concerning German re-armament follows:

1. On March 16 last, the head of the German state, chancellor of the reich, convened ambassadors of the European powers in Berlin and communicated to them the text of a law re-establishing general compulsory military service in Germany, providing for reorganization of the army and bringing it up to twelve army corps of 36 divisions. On the same day this law was promulgated. This measure had been preceded on March 9 by official notification of the reconstitution of a German military air force.

Two of the essential provisions of

Two of the essential provisions of the military clauses of the peace treaty were thus informally repudiated. This is the culmination of long and methodical labors pursued in secret; it bears witness to the scale on which rearment already has been effected in Germany, apart from the program now being put into effect; it is not so much the announcement as the definite achievement of a policy.

A year ago Europe was disturbed at the increase in the reich's military budget for 1934-1935. The French government saw in these estimates of expenditure (that subsequently have been greatly exceeded) a sign of the German government's determination of continue its rearmament within to continue its rearmament within limits of which it intends to be the sole judge. Reich authorities have protested against this interpretation protested against this interpretation in a note handed on April 11 to the British ambassador at Berlin, the minister of foreign affairs explained the increase in expenditure as the need of preparing for transformation of the army into short term service militia and denied that the budget of the air ministry could be regarded as an armament budget.

PREVARICATIONS. A few days later, on April 27, he expressed his "stupefaction" that anyone could feel any real alarm at an air budget expenditure which was in-tended solely for the protection of the population against an air attack and for reorganization of civil aviation. Again on December 20 the air min-istry refused to admit that the reich possessed more than a few experiistry refused to admit that the reich possessed more than a few experimental craft. If three months later Chancellor Hitler was in a position to inform the British foreign secretary that the reich had, in the matter of aviation, already attained parity with the United Kingdom, it is surely permissible to point out that such a result would not have been brought about in a few weeks or even a few about in a few weeks or even a few months. Hence the true value of the denials and declarations is clear, and the spirit that they reveal as-sumes its full significance.

2. The acts referred to above are definite infringement of certain fundamental clauses of part five of the treaty of Versailles and of agree-ments concluded subsequently for its application between Germany and the government of the "principal allied powers" represented by the conference of ambassadors. SYSTEMATIC DISREGARD. For a long time it has been impossible to doubt that these articles of the treaty were being systematically disregarded. But their violation was, as far as possible, conceated. At present their violation is perfectly clear and is no longer denied. It is the duty of the League of Nations to take cognizance of the matter. Founded as it is on an obligation of a covenant, in the preamble of which it is laid down that states which intend "to promote international co-operation" and "achieve international peace and se-"achieve international peace and se cachese international peace and se-curity" must scrupilously respect all treaty obligations in dealings with organized peoples with one another," the League cannot remain indiffer-ent to an affirmation of a method and policy entirely contrary to prin-ciples on which it rests and aims assigned to it.

assembly expressly referred to Part V of the treaty in defining military, naval and air conditions to which the reich was bound to conform; it noted a declaration to the effect that Germany would give "effective guarantees of her sincere intention to observe the obligations incumbent on her under the treaty and acts related thereto:

In treating it as null and void, the government of the reich has de-liberately destroyed one of the bases

4. By so doing it has seriously compromised the success of international negotiations on limitation of armaments pursued under the auspices of the League of Nations and on the basis of Article VIII of the League covenant. The powers had, however, given many proofs of their will to conform to the provisions of this article.

For its part the French govern-

For its part the French govern-For its part the French government must point out that between 1921 and 1928, the duration of military service was reduced in France from three years to one; that forces immediately available for defense of the home country were thus reduced according to the circumstances, by 42 or 60 per cent; that its overseas forces also have been appreciably reduced; that only a very small part of the air program has been carried out.

Certainly, many difficulties had arisen to jeopardize the success of the Geneva conference; but these difficulties did not release Germany from its obligations. Even if—and this the government of the republic formally denies—the preamble to Part V was of a nature and scope that is segmetimes thought to well. that is sometimes thought to at-tribute to it, one essential fact would nevertheless remain; whatever might be the difficulties of a task further complicated by measures of German rearmament at the very time when a conference was sitting, the powers had not renounced their efforts to discover some basis on which an international agreement could be concluded.

PREVIOUS

PROPOSALS.

The French government feels bound to refer to proposals made as long as February 5, 1932, for limiting bombing aircraft and placing them at the disposal of the League, and for the creation of an international force in connection with a better organization of security. It must allude to the generous proposals put forward by the French delegation November 14 of the same year for the establishment of a European system of armament reductions and infernational co-operation. It must allude to the declaration of December 11, 1932, indissolubly linked with the concession of equality rights with the establishment of a system with the establishment of a system of security. Lastly, it must refer to the fact that in October, 1933, at a time when the international situation already was becoming overcast for reasons for which France bears no responsibility whatsoever, it agreed with several other governments in proposing a program of agreed with several other governments in proposing a program of work which would have enabled the Geneva conference to accomplish something useful and effective.

It is true that when this program started, the government of the reich thought fit to leave Geneva and announce its decision to withdraw from the League. A violent action, totally unjustified—as the president of the conference himself observed—but even after that action had been taken, the enterprise was not abandoned. On February 3, last, on the initiative of the French and the United Kingdom governments, a program was framed which was favorably received by all governments attached

It was regretfully recognized that the method of unilateral repudiation adopted by the German government at a moment when steps were being taken to promote a freely-negotiated settlement of the question of armaments, had undermined public confidence in security of oeaceful order. Moreover, the magnitude of the declared program of German rearmament, already well in the process of execution, had invalidated the quantitative assumption upon which efforts for disarmament had hitherto been based and shaken the hope by which those efforts were inspired.

The representatives of the three powers nevertheless reaffirmed their earnest desire to sustain peace by establishing a sense of security, and declared for themselves that they remain anxious to join every practicable affort for promoting internatives of the server of the serve

LEICESTER. England, April 14.

(P)—Sir Oswald Mosley, British fascist leader, voiced his organization's policy toward Jews today with a flaying attack on them rivaling, if not surpassing, some of Adolf Hitler's anti-Semetic outbursts.

The stormy meeting was marked by repeated scuffles between blackshirts and booing becklers.

"For the first time I openly and publicly challenge Jewish interests in this country," the tall and handsome leader of the blackshirts declared. "Commanding commerce, commanding the press, commanding the cinema, dominating the city of London, they are killing industry with their sweatshops.

Growth Restrictions Lifted But Contracts Call for Retirement Funds.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(R)—AAA plans to increase wheat production to avoid threatened shortages which might necessitate sizeable grain imports today were threatened by Comptroller General McCarl.

The drouth and dust storms in the western wheat area caused the Farm Administration to lift restrictions on spring plantings.

Administration to lift restrictions on spring plantings.

The AAA arranged to pay the farmers for the contemplated reductions just the same on their promise to curtail the acreage next year.

But McCarl has questioned this proposal and has asked additional information. AAA officials said today, however, that reports that the comptroller general had definitely ruled the payments could not be made were erroneous.

payments could not be made were erroneous.

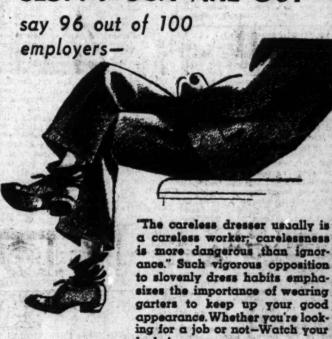

They said privately they expected to be able to carry out the plan for forceasing production of spring wheat and to pay farmers who had signed contracts to co-operate with the reduction program. It was conceded, however, that some modification of present arrangements might have to be made, although increased plantings were said to be assured.

The New Deal has had trouble with McCarl on one program or another almost from the time that the president took office, but AAA officials said they had had little difficulty and had found him fair, although several plans were modified to conform to his views.

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:

DEAR MISS CHATFIELD:

When I was quite young and working in a department store I met a girl employed at the same place. We used to go out for lunch together and have dates in the evening. Pretty soon we were in love and I pressed her to marry me. In the meantime I had lost my position and was forced to leave that town and look for work. Not having enough money to support her it was necessary for her to stay where she was and keep her job. So we decided on a secret marriage. I suppose pride suggested that way. I went off happy, knowing she was mine and hopeful of getting work that would enable me to send for her. But the job couldn't be found and I was ashamed to go back and admit defeat so I continued to stay away looking for something to do. I wrote her every day and tried to keep cheerful though I was having it hard. After two years I have come back home to see her and my parents and found that she is allenated completely. My mother warned me that she had never known a secret marriage to turn out right but at the time we thought we could manage it. There seems to be no other man in the picture and certainly I have never looked at another girl. I don't know what to do. Please tell me what you think of my problem.

News of this recognition of the importance of conservation measures by army officials was learned yesterday when A. C. Shaw, acting regional forester in charge of the southern region of the United States Forest Service, announced the appointment of R. S. Richardson as technical forestry adviser to General Moseley.

Mr. Richardson, a graduate of the forestry school of the University of Michigan, has been in Atlanta for nearly a year, acting as liaison officer in forestry matters for the United States Forest Service and various governmental agencies co-operating in the work of the CCC. These agencies include the fourth copps area of the army the National Park Service, Bureau of Biological Survey, Bureau of Animal Husbandry and the Navy Department.

reau of Blological Survey, Bureau of Animal Husbandry and the Navy Department.

At fourth corps area headquarters, General Moseley stated that five CCC companies would be located at Fort Benning, Ga., one at Fort McPherson target range at Waco, Ga., and one at the National cemetery at Andersonville, Ga. Five companies will work at Fort Bragg, N. C.; two at Fort McClellan, Ala., and two at Barksdale field, Shreveport, La.

General Moseley said the work programs for the 16 camps allocated to the southern military reservations were similar to those laid out for national forest projects and would include the construction of lookout towers, fire breaks and other aids to forest fire prevention. Forest stand improvement work will be undertaken and trees will be planted where believed advisable.

The program for Fort Benning includes a recreational dam and a nursery for propagating planting stock for the reservation.

In commenting on the army's program of forest management on southern military reservations, United States Forest Service officials at forestry headquarters in Atlanta said that it was a splendid opportunity to undertake constructive work that will be of immediate benefit to the army

Shaughnessy Plan Replaces "Split."

Replaces "Split."

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 14.—(P)—
Last summer the Southern association season was "split," with Nashville winning the first half of the race and New Orleans the second. The Pelicans defeated the Vols in the playoff and went on to triumph in the Dixie Series.

Since the race will be staged under the Shaughnessy system this year, there will be no split season. The four teams finishing in the top division will engage in a post-season series for the pennant.

The Shaughnessy plan brings to gether the first and fourth-place clubs and the second and third-ranking teams, the series continuing until ateam in each bracket has won three games. The winners then enter a seven-game series for the pennant.

Live's how the teams finished in the last half of the 1934 race and how they ranked on the basis of the entire season's play:

G000DYEAR, 21-1

Warren Refrigerator Company looked the most formidable in the opening series of the City league Sunday afternoon. The Warren boys pounded out 12 runs in the first inning against Goodyear Service, and hit 51 times during the game. Mize and Williams both hit four times.

Highland Mills came up from Griffin with a good team and trimmed the Commodore Feds at the U. S. P., 5 to 3. Bunching of hits in the third inning turned the trick. Newman. Britt and Cook all hit well. Waters held the game well in hand in spite of the nine hits allowed.

Miller Service took Royal Typewriter down the road for a 10-to-3 licking. Miller's heavy hitters had two good innings, scoring four runs

Mr. Wilmer Allison, the No. 1 boy in our amateur tennis business, showed them yesterday at the Biltmore Club just why he is the No. 1 boy.

Very solemnly, and with no change of expression, he defeated our Mr. Bryan Grant, ranked No. 10 and but lately admitted to that exclusive Davis cup squad, in straight sets.

It did him very little good, however, because from the vocal expressions of the ladies near me, I judged they thought Mr. Allison nothing but a great big brute who was taking an unfair advantage of the smallish Bitsy Grant.

THE TENNIS BUGS.

There were, as aforesaid, some thousand or more of the two-legged tennis bugs out there to see the matches which concluded a very fine tournament, handicapped until its final day by rain, cold and bad weather generally.

Present also were several thousand tennis bugs of the winged kind. I am sure they were tennis bugs because they were not present anywhere else in the city. And when several thousands of the pests assemble at one innocent tennis court and begin to get into one's hair and down one's collar, it safely may be assumed they were tennis bugs.

I hope there were some scientists present to capture them for investigation. It was a plague of some sort and this particular tennis tourament had more plagues than Ole King Pharaoh. (Let my chillun go.) The tennis bugs had a great Crackers in their big inning against the Buffalos.

This was the sixth inning, in which the Crackers scored four runs on three hits and a base on balls. I have seen many Cracker teams of the past few years get fewer runs on twice that many hits.

But this inning was a grand flourish and will, I suspect, add just the 2,000 extra fans to those already decided to go to the opener Tuesday and thus establish the 18,000 set by this corner as the number which must be present.

New Orleans is shooting for 15,000, but that is a sissy number and we can draw that many for a ball club which doesn't look like anything but a member of the lower classes of the second division.

That sixth inning saw Dave Harris hit a beautiful double which almost cut the legs off the left fielder for the Buffalos. And it saw Prince Henry Oana drive a triple to deep center.

The Prince gave them an extra flourish, going into third with one of those fly-up hook slides in which the player hits the dirt and comes up standing in one continuous motion.

It was a good show and a nice crowd saw it and the stage is now being set for the opening on Tuesday afternoon when we are to go out and murder the Knoxvilles. I am very sorry to do this because the Knoxvilles are nice people and all that, but they chose us and so we must do our duty.

IT'S THE GAME.

I don't know but what, after all, baseball is the game for comfort, relaxation, the putting on of weight and that sort

The proprietors learned long ago to put in comfortable seats and up in the press box we have them padded. It is possible to loose one's vest, munch on peanuts, consume the pause that refreshes and otherwise spend a lazy, comfortable couple of hours.

The scenery is good. The baseball parks no longer are garish displays of signboards and fence. The better ones have the signs collected in an aesthetic manner. The outer reaches of the field are terraces and beautified with shrubs, poplars and things like that.

Our park is, of course, the prettiest in the league. I can assure you of that, having peered often at all of them. It is restful to the eye and the game is different—not the same thing over and over again as in tennis—which is, just the same, a swell game.

There is the cry of the vendors, the green grass, the blue sky above and the game out in front. The national game. And no fooling:

I'll be seeing you Tuesday.

Texan Evens Count on Grant With 6-3, 6-4, 6-4 Victory.

By Jack Troy.

Sure-stroking Wilmer Allison, playing a cagey game along with his deadly velleving, placements and smashing kills yesterday outmaneuvered Bryan (Bitsy) Grant, Atlanta's national clay courts champion and new Davis cup appointee, to win the second annual Atlanta invitation tennis championship in straight sets at the Biltmore club.

The nation's No. 1 star got even for Bitsy's smashing victory over him at Houston. Bitsy won that tournament in four sets while Allison, playing a forcing game and also keeping the ball in play, disappointed 1,000-odd Grant supporters yesterday by denying Bitsy a set. The accres were 6.3, 6.4, 6.4.

Grant refaulted. The scores were 3-7, 6-2, 5-7, 6-2, 2-81.

The spectators remained to see a brilliant doubles duel. Allison is one of the greatest doubles players in the world and he had a fine partner in Bitsy. Hall and Bell gave them a battle all the way.

Despite rain, cold and the swarming buss—gnats to you!—the tournament wound its way to a successful conclusion yesterday. The Atlanta Lawn Tennis Association is to be complimented upon the splendid manner in which the event was conducted. Reg Fleet did a yeoman's work. And his charming wife was there to the bitter end each day. Count Boyer did a splendid job of officiating.

Allison was never out of the lead in the first two sets. Finding Bitsy playing a cautious game, he took over the offensive at once and forged ahead to a lead of four games to love in the first set.

Grant finally broke Allison's serve in the fifth game. The Grant boy was fighting but obviously was not at his best. The eld home town crowd is a shard crowd to play before, although Bitsy knew they were for him to a Grant also won the sixth game on his own service to draw up to 2-4 in games. But Allison, too, was fighting with all his might. 10TH VICTORY.

It was their 10th victory out of 16 pre-season games.

"Bud" Thomas, the young Virgindan who will be on the staff for awhile, anyway, became the second Cracker pitcher to go the nine-inning route.

Prince Henry Oana, the hefty Hawisian, belted out a double and triple and a trio of nifty catches in the outfield.

In closing out their spring skirmishes, the Crackers looked very good. They were outhit by the Bisons, but they made their hits count so effectively that they didn't need any more and they chased across those four runs in the sixth on three blows, including "Sheriff" Harris' torried double past third and Oana's lusty triple which soared away over the head of McFarland in center.

Next to Harris and Gana, Captain Buster Chatham, the shortstop, was the most potent Cracker at the plate. Buster got himself a double and single and did a swell job of fielding his position.

Baseball Managers Carry Burdens, Talk

Only Cochrane Declines To Comment on Big League Pennant Races.

By Alan Gould,

Associated Press Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, April 14.—(AP)—Not even the extraordinary fanfare of major league baseball's opening salute Tuesday can obscure the fact that exactly 16 men will carry the main burden of proof into the 1935

Calcas, to give the Crackers the most opposition.

"Memphis has some great young pitchers, a good outfield and infield and should have seven .300 hitters in its lineup," Kelley, who will hurl the Cracker opener against Knoxville, stated.

stated,

He thinks Hutcheson, Hamel and Duke, outfielders; Reese, first base; Sigafoos, second base; Ernie Smith, shortstop, and Babe Benning, third base, will be in the 300 class.

ers are as good as last year they should decide the race. The Reds, greatly improved, will be troublemak-ers. We should get out of the hole."

Rogers Hornsby, Browns: "It will be a good race. The clubs seem well equalized. Whether I'll play much depends on how things stack up and on the weather. We will have more punch this year and the Browns will be hustling for everything they can

Joe McCarthy, Yankees: "The Yan-

Joe McCarthy, Yankees: "The Yankees will be a stronger, better-balanced club than the one that won 94 games last season. The outfield has been improved. So has the infield, with Rolfe at third base. It looks like an open race, with Detroit and Cleveland appearing now as the clubs to beat."

Joe Cronin. Red Sox: "The club is in good shape, although Roy Johnson's illness deprives us of some needed punch at the start. We feel the American league is going to see a wide-open race.

That big, fat Cracker inning which will make frequent appearances this summer, loomed up in the sixth yesterday when Eddie Moore's siege guns unlimbered and blasted the the Buffalo Bisons off the range with four runs which broke a 1-1 tie and gave Atlanta the final game of its exhibition schedule and the deciding one of the series, 5 to 1.

It was a noteworthy game for several reasons, one of which was the weather which was so inviting that 2,600 fans came out and paid to see the Crackers' last appearance before they appear in league regalia against Knoxville Tuesday.

MAIN QUESTIONS.

What do they think? Will Micket.

They are the managers who will take charge as soon as the parades are over. They will welcome the big crowds, the tumult and the shouting, yet their job carries the full weight of responsibility, not for any single ceremonial occasion but for the entire 154-game season.

Today, with the spring training the high leader over, the big league leaders point the way confidently to battle. It is no trick for them to be optimistic now. The test of their resources and their best-laid plans of strategy will come later and paid to see the crackers' last appearance before they appear in league regalia against Knoxville Tuesday.

Cochrane alone among the American league chieftains declined to comment directly on the coming race. He did not conceal his confidence in training camp, however. He thinks his Tigers can repeat and considers the Yankees a transport threat the the Yankees a stronger threat than the Cleveland Indians, picked by a majority of baseball writers to fin-ish on top.

Thomas went along fairly steadily for the most part, although touched ap rather hard at times by the Bisons, who have a good ball club. He scattered the hits very widely, lowever, and the only run he gave ame in the second on Olson's double and Buck Crouse's single. Crouse, exwhite Sox catcher, reached "Bud" for here hits.

The game sparkled with good fielding plays. Oana roamed the center-iseld terrish like the fine outfielder.

Bill Terry, Giants: "This is the best team I have ever managed and I like its chances for the pennant. The Cardinals will give us plenty of opposition but I do not expect the Dean brothers to have the success against us they did last year. The Pirates rate about third, with the Cubs bothersome, as usual, especially in their home park. Stengel's Dodgers are improved and may force their way into the first division. Charley Grimm, Cubs: "I figure we will battle it out with the Giants and Cards. If one more pitcher comes through for us — Henshaw, Joiner, Root, Kowalik, Casey or Bryant—we may surprise the league. Lindstrom adds punch to our lineup. Young Phil Cavarretta looks like a sensation at my old job, first base. Our team is young and faster."

To my way of thinking, however, the 25 straight of Mr. Ralph Zachry was tops for the day. It was his first. And for months and months and months and months he has been plugging. Yesterday he got over the hump. And it was a great event. The pity was that Mrs. Zachry wasn't there to see it.

Walter Johnson, Indians: "It looks like an open race. I do not think there is an outstanding club. Our team is inexperienced in some spots but has lots of ability. We will miss Knickerbocker at shortstop, at the start, but—I look for our youngsters to come through. It is the best club I have ever managed."

Bucky Harris, Senators: "We are rounding into shape to give all the others a battle. I regard the Yangees, Tigers and Indians, in the order named, as the toughest to beat. If our pitchers elick, we will be contenders."

Jimmle Dykes, White Sox: "The race should witness a furious stretch drive among Detroit, Cleveland and New York. The addition of Pitcher Pat Malone makes the Yankees contenders. 'Plenty of Seats,' Says Earl Mann

Vice President Earl Mann, of the Crackers, yesterday called attention to the fact that there are plenty of good seats left for the club's opener with Knox-

"We'll have room to seat 17,000 people comfortably and these include some of the best in the park," Earl pointed out.

By enlarging the bleachers to accommodate 800 more than they held last year, building emergency seats in right and center field and adding a temporary tier to the grand stand, Mann has greatly increased the capacity of the park.

The tickets may be purchased downtown at Marshall & Reynolds drug store, the Elks Club, the A. A. C. and the Capital City Club and at the ball park offices.

The two pennant races are not all the general interest that baseball and leading hitters.

For example, Lou Gehrig. who set the home-run pace at 49 last season, will have more than one keen pursuer in his own league.

The Babe won't play in enough games to be a serious threat, although his general home-run average will be high enough.

The Bible Class and Sunday School Duckpin league will bring its schedule to a close with the bowling of the three scheduled games this evening, after which the third-round winner will be determined.

Peachtree Christian bowls Pistolian Class; Westminster Presbyterian Highlanders and Trinity Methodist are matched; Grace Methodist ties up with Fellowship Class; Westminster Presbyterian Lowlanders and Agoga Class bowl; Mt. Perian Baptist and Virginia Avenue Baptist are opponents.

Several additional entries were received late Saturday evening for the City Duckpin tournament, one of the latest team entries being that of the Dr. Pepper Bottling Company, the entry being forwarded to the tournament headquarters by Manager Cannan. All bowlers are eligible to compete in the duckpin meet, which is to be conducted on a classified basis. one team will be one of the toughest spots for a pitcher in either league. The two feature pitchers of the American league on get-away day will be Lefty Gomez, of the Yankees, and Schoolboy Rowe, of the Tigers. Gomez won 26 games last season and dropped but five. This is throwing a baseball. He is due for another big year, and so is Schoolboy Rowe, 6 feet 4, with a follow-through delivery that brings him almost on top of the batter.

Brews Enters National Open

NEW YORK, April 14.-(P)-Sid NEW YORK, April 14.—(P)—Sid Brews, South African professional who finished second to Henry Cotton in the 1934 British Open, will be among the 149 contenders for Olin Dutra's American Open golf crown at Pittsburgh in June.

In drafting plans for the 1935 championship, to be played at Oakchampionship, to be played at Oak-championship, to be played at Oakmont June 6, 7 and 8, the United States Golf Association has reserved ten places in the field of 150 for foreign professionals. Six of these already have been assigned to the team of Japanese invading this country next month. Now Brews has definitely assured the U. S. G. A. he also will compete.

Until his fine performance in last year's British Open, Brews was best known for his exploits in South Africa, where he is attached to the Durban Golf Club in Natal. Brews won the South African Open championship five times and the native professional crown thrice. Although better than average off the tees and through the fairways, he is known especially for his deadly approach shots.

With only three weeks remaining before the entries close, the list of American contestants in the British Amateur championship at Royal Ly, tham and St. Annes, starting May 20, has grown to seven.

The invading contingent will be led by William Lawson Little Jr., defending champion, whose stock in the golf world jumped several points on his showing in the recent Augusta Invitation. Remembering his crushing 14 and 13 defeat of Carpenter Jim Wallace in the finals last year. British disciples of the game already have posted the husky Californian the favorite, despite the fact that only twice in history has the same player woon the title in successive years.

The other Americans entered include Dick Chapman, Greenwich. Conn.; Robert W. Knowles Jr., of Boston; Guy Hayes, of North Andover, Mass.; John H. Forsman, of New York; Robert A. Stranahan, of Toledo, Ohio, and Captain A. Bullock-Webster, of Monterrey Park, Cal.

TWO LOVE GAMES. TWO LOVE GAMES.

Then Allison served and he, too, won by love. Another of those great rallies was injected, with Allison outsteadying Grant and forcing him to err. They were all even at 3-all.

But Allison won the next game on Grant's service, again allowing him but one point. Grant wasn't giving up, however, and he took Allison's service. Allison twice double-faulted, giving some idea of the pressure at this stage. And so Grant broke his service for the first time in this set to even the games at four-all.

Roselle, the Hatter, Warns Against Further Delay in Easter Hat Cleaning

FOR EXPERT WORK ON FINE PANAMAS

Experienced Craftsmen GuaranteeThorough and Efficient Workmanship on Summer Headgear.

Spring's arrival and Easter's impending advent are bringing summer headgear out of winter quarters in increasing numbers — and Panamas and straws alike are forming a pre-Easter parade straight to Roselle, the Hatter's plant at 35 Forsyth street, N. W., to be put in condition for the warm months ahead.

Roselle, the Hatter, is especially well equipped to handle Panamas, and to give them the care and attention their construction demands. A son of one of the nation's fore-most hat manufacturers, he has spent his life among hats, knows their manufacture and the peculiarities of their materials, and is considered now one of the most experienced men in his field in the south. He has long made a special study of the cleaning of Panamas, and invites owners of these fine hats to see for themselves the fine workmanship his shop provides for this special type of headgear.

Tony Roselle, proprietor of this, the outstanding hat cleaning establishment of the southeast, warns of delay in bringing hats in to be cleaned for Easter, and urges promptness to avoid last-minute disappointments.

Despite the pre-Easter rush, Mr. Roselle asserts, the expert craftsmen in the shop of Roselle, the Hatter, are never permitted to deviate in the slightest degree from the established high standards of their workmanship.

Approximately 80 per cent of the buildings in Georgia, Mr. Sullivan estimates, are infested with termites—a fact readily translated into realization of a small part of the billions

BROWER OFFERS SPECIAL 'DEALS' IN EASTER CANDY

Retailers Urged To Order at Once To Be Assured of Full Stocks for Holiday Trade.

Retailers whose stocks of Easter candies and eggs are depleted, or who are otherwise unprepared to meet this season's unusually heavy demand for these specialties, are urged by W. M. Wallace, president of the Brower Candy Company, to get their orders in early this week, so that they may be assured of prompt delivery.

The Brower Candy Company, located at 187 Edgewood avenue, S. E., is in position this year to supply a very widely assorted list of Easter candies, included among which are severances.

The Canasnites howled with frantic fervor; "True! It is well that she goeth to her death!" Suddenly Arbels lifted her voice above the screams and spoke to Niarchus: "The sacrifice of this Heavenly One is a grievous sin. Now Beal shall visit his terrible wrath upon us!"

Niarchus turned his hideous face upon her. "One word more," he cried, "and you shall join her?" 'Arbela saw the hopelessness of her appeal. Then she acted upon a sudden, foolish impulse. She ran into the temple, down the winding stairs, and into the Court of the Pillar.

Swiftly she raced to Lady Beth and tried desperately to release her, but the surprised Niarchus acreamed a quick command. The elders ran forward and bound Arbela to the rope. And now both girls, struggling vainly, were drawn inevitably toward the deadly Pillar of Baal!

Real Estate For Rent BANK CLEARINGS SHOW F. D. R. To Be Asked

Lagging Trade in Stocks Said Cause of First Decline.

Bank clearings show some recession from preceding weeks, as well as from those of a year ago. The total for the 22 leading cities in the United States for the week ended Wednes States for the week ended Wednes-day, April 10, as reported by Dun & CLOSURE OF ALL MILLS PREDICTED BY CURLEY Bradstreet, Inc., was $5,200,577,000 against $5,742,746,000 for the same week of last year, a loss of 9.4 per cent. This contrasted with a gain of 17.4 per cent in the previous week.

At New York city, clearings were $3.624.118.000, a reduction of 14.8 per cent from the amount reported last year, while the aggregate for centers outside of New York of $1,576,-459,000 was 5.9 per cent higher. The report this week makes

The report this week makes the poorest showing since early in February. The decline was mainly at New York city and may reflect reduced stock dealings, compared with the early part of April, 1934.

Atlantan Tells Columbus Body Depression Has Aided Family Life.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—(27)—
President Roosevelt will be asked tomorrow to grant a mass interview to a group of between 30 and 50 house members anxious to add their personal plea for action in behalf of the cotton textile industry.

Representative Martin, republican, Massachusetts, said he would telephone the White House to request the appointment "the first thing in the morning" and added that he was certain "at least 30 and perhaps 50" would go to the president if the interview were granted. COLUMBUS, Ga., April 14.-(A) Here for an intensive study of cial problems brought about changed economic conditions, social vorkers of Georgia tonight opened their annual conference with Dr. Herman L. PREDICTED BY CURLEY
BOSTON, April 14.—(R)—Closure of every cotton textile mill in New England in six months, Governor James M. Curley said today, was "almost a certainty" unless the federal government immediately aided the industry. man L. Turner, Atlanta minister, as principal speaker.

The conference will continue through Wednesday morning.

Dr. Turner said at the night session, that family life had been strengthened by the depression.

"One of the spiritual values which will come to us out of our economic recovery will be the new strengths of the family life." he said.

"We have been so close to the problem concerning the breakdown of character that we have almost lost sight of the strengths of the family. In spite of the changing home, we see great sources of strength such." The governor made this prediction tomorrow on the eve of a meeting tomorrow with New England cotton manufactur-ers at which a move will be undertak-en to have the code revised and the wage differential between northern and southern mill workers cut from
